Environmental Health Services Director

Gallatin City-County Health Department

Montana’s fastest growing county -- home to the state’s largest university, world-class ski resorts, blue ribbon trout streams, and gateway to Yellowstone National Park -- is seeking an innovative, experienced leader to serve as Environmental Health Services Director of Gallatin City-County Health Department (GCCHD).

This position is located in Bozeman, MT, and plans, organizes, directs, coordinates and supervises the GCCHD Environmental Health Services (EHS) programs. Collaboration with community organizations, DPHHS, DEQ and the public, this role provides the overall management of the EHS department. The person who fills this role will report to the Health Officer and supervises all of the EHS employees. Additionally, this role must be prepared to serve as acting or interim Health Officer in the event the Health Officer is incapacitated or unavailable due to leave or other circumstances.

Education & Experience:
- Considerable knowledge of the principles, techniques, and practices of environmental health.
- Knowledge of the laws, rules, and regulations relating to environmental health at local, state and federal level, including legislative processes
- Considerable knowledge of the environmental and health problems of communities.
- Combination of education and experience equivalent to graduation from an accredited college or university with a Bachelor’s degree in environmental health, environmental sciences, or a closely related field.
- A Master’s degree in environmental health, biology, public health or closely related field is preferred.
- Five years of experience in public health, environmental health, environmental sciences or public sector with demonstrated leadership skills and progressively increasing managerial responsibility, or a comparable management experience in a closely related setting with formal training/experience in public health or environmental health.
- Eligible to become REHS or RS certified is preferred as is direct experience working in environmental health.

For a full job description or to start the application process, please visit www.governmentjobs.com/careers/gallatinmt or go to the Gallatin County website, click on the “Careers” box, and click apply. Be prepared to attach a cover letter, resume, and three (3) professional references. These documents are required to be considered for this position.